Quality Women in Leadership Program 2008

The Quality Women In Leadership (QWIL) Program is a leadership development experience designed specifically for senior and near-senior QUT women who aspire to higher levels of University management.

Visit our website: www.hrd.qut.edu.au/development/programs

Program Objectives

The Quality Women in Leadership (QWIL) program will assist participants to:

Gain an insight into the current priorities and strategic issues within the University and Higher Education Sector through:-

- presentations by key University figures and external speakers
- observation of up to three major University committee meetings
- access to activities/events of the QUT Senior Management Development Program and the ATN Women's Executive Development Program

Enhance leadership, interpersonal and career development capabilities through:-

- facilitated workshops on leadership, career planning and interpersonal skills
- optional participation in QUT's 360 degree feedback survey the Quality Leadership Profile
- a choice of either individual mentoring or a short term shadowing opportunity, as elected by participants

Build strategic linkages through:-

- participation in special interest groups and learning partnerships
- networking opportunities with fellow QWIL Participants, former participants and QUT senior staff
